These are the maximum amounts that you can borrow for a full academic year. For periods of study that are shorter than an academic year, the maximum amounts you can borrow may be less. Your school's financial aid office will determine the specific amounts that you are eligible to borrow.

When you apply for federal student aid, your answers to certain questions will determine whether you are considered dependent or independent. See the Student Guide at www.FederalStudentAid.ed.gov or your school's financial aid administrator for more information.

All graduate/professional students are considered independent.
