MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNIVERSITY OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS

It is my distinct honor and privilege to welcome you to the 43rd Annual Service Awards Ceremony! Congratulations to the dedicated, hard-working, and committed members of the UVI family who are being recognized today. I also wish to acknowledge and thank our special guests who have joined us today at this auspicious occasion where we pause to celebrate our valued employees.

In keeping with this year's celebratory theme of "Resilient & Keen – Service Awards 2017," I am so proud that we take time each year to honor and recognize our employees. It is written that you can never say thank you enough, because the more you thank people for the things they do, the more you value the people and the things they do. I would be the first to admit that we don't thank each other enough for the small and large blessings we receive each day from those around us. The Service Awards program is our institutional effort that reminds us that we must recognize, celebrate and thank those who provide service to each of us and to our students every day. The students who come to us and embrace what we have to offer go on to achieve great things with their lives. None of this would occur if they were not taught, supported and inspired by numerous individuals who work at UVI. For many of our employees, working at UVI is a labor of love. They do it for the greater mission and the spirit which this institution embodies.

To all our honorees, there is a strange belief that if people are being paid for the things they do then that is appreciation enough. I reject that concept because payment is our contractual relationship with the institution, but thanks and appreciation represents our moral and spiritual connection to each other. Therefore, from the moral and spiritual well that dwells in me and resides in this University, I want to thank all employees for their contributions, but especially those who have reached certain milestones in regard to years of service. The well of gratitude will never run dry as long as we continue to fill it up with our hearts of kindness. UVI is a better place because of the service each of you provide to the institution.

I want to especially recognize our retirees. It is a special privilege for me as President to thank you for your years of dedicated service. You have given more than your time to us, you have shared with us your wisdom, knowledge, insights and soul. You have served this institution for numerous years, and your time, effort and hopefully love that was poured into UVI will always be appreciated and remembered. We owe you a deep debt of gratitude for sharing so many years of your life with us.

In closing, I applaud the hard work and thoughtfulness of Director Ron Meek and the staff of the Department of Human Resources who have consistently gone above and beyond in the planning of these employee recognition ceremonies. The care that you have taken to ensure that each employee being honored today feels special will undoubtedly result in fond memories for all.

Sincerely,

David Hall, SJD
President
