

COLLEGE'S PROGRAMS ON ST. CROIX

(Board of Trustees Meeting, October 22, 1967)

The Board was asked to consider the future of the College's programs on St. Croix, and an extended discussion followed, attempting to project the College's activities through a period of the next ten years. It was agreed during this discussion that the College should bring in an educational consultant to draw up an educational master plan and that this should be followed when timely by an architectural master plan. The Board affirmed its intention to develop the present extension center on St. Croix over a period of years into a campus of the College which would work in partnership with our present campus to meet as fully as possible the higher education needs of the Virgin Islands. After the educational consultant has completed his work, his report will be the basis for further consideration of this development.
