

BOARD OF TRUSTEES
UNIVERSITY OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS (UVI)
POLICY FOR AWARDING HONORARY DOCTORAL DEGREES

Context

A review of academic and board policies of our peer institutions indicates that the majority have a policy in place or procedures which govern the awarding of honorary doctoral degrees. For some of the institutions, policies regarding honorary degrees date back to the early 1960's, while, for others, policies have been established within the last 10 to 15 years. In addition, the awarding of honorary degrees is a standard practice within the academy, both nationally and internationally. Of importance also is the fact that none of our peers awards earned doctorates. Therefore, the awarding of earned doctorates is not a prerequisite for the awarding of honorary doctoral degrees. Research indicated that for most of our peer institutions, the honorary degrees most often awarded are: the Doctor of Laws (LL.D.); Doctor of Science (Sc.D.); Doctor of Letters (Litt. D); and Doctor of Humane Letters (L.H.D.).

The Case for the Awarding of Honorary Doctoral Degrees at UVI

UVI is at a place and time in its history where the establishment of a policy regarding the awarding of honorary doctoral degrees is appropriate. In all instances, the awarding of honorary doctoral degrees is viewed as having benefits to both the recipient and the institutions which awards the degree.
